

THE UNITED REPUBLIC OF TANZANIA
PRESIDENT'S OFFICE
REGIONAL ADMINISTRATIVE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT
NJOMBE REGION
FORM SIX PRE-MOCK EXAMINATION
ACADEMIC COMMUNICATION
MARKING GUIDE

SECTION A (40 MARKS)

The candidate is supposed to construct two sentences to show either a word is noun or verb.

1. Construct two sentences to show each word as a noun and as a verb.

(i) Increase

As a noun: There has been an increase in school enrolment.

- Explanation: Increase is a noun because it names a rise in number or amount.

As a verb: The government will increase teachers' salaries.

- Explanation: Increase is a verb because it expresses an action.

(ii) Head

As a noun: The head of the school welcomed the guests.

- Explanation: Head names a person in charge; therefore, it is a noun.

As a verb: She will head the research team.

- Explanation: Head means "to lead"; therefore, it is a verb.

(iii) Swimming

As a noun: Swimming is an enjoyable sport.

- Explanation: It names an activity; therefore, it is a gerund (noun).

As a verb: They are swimming in the river.

- Explanation: It expresses an action in the present continuous tense.

(iv) Water

As a noun: We need clean water for drinking.

- Explanation: It names a substance.

As a verb: Farmers water their crops every evening.

- Explanation: It means to pour water on plants.

(v) Transport

As a noun: Public transport is reliable.

- Explanation: It names a service.

As a verb: Ships transport goods across the ocean.

- Explanation: It expresses the action of carrying goods or people.

2 mark @ 10

The candidate is supposed to divide words into syllables.

2. (a). Divide the words into syllables

i. Family → Fam-i-ly

- ii. Elephant → El-e-phant
- iii. Banana → Ba-na-na
- iv. Wonderful → Won-der-ful
- v. Government → Gov-ern ment

Explanation: A syllable is a unit of pronunciation containing one vowel sound. Each word is divided according to its spoken sound.

The candidate is required to transcribe words provided.

(b). Transcribe the following words

- i. Chair → /tʃeə(r)/
- ii. Measure → /'meʒə(r)/
- iii. Home → /həʊm/
- iv. Fire → /faɪə(r)/
- v. Thin → /θɪn/

Explanation: Transcription uses the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) to represent pronunciation accurately.

1 mark @ 10

3(a) The candidate should state the kind of sentences according to the structure.

i. Although many schemes exist, poverty remains.

Answer: Complex sentence.

- Explanation: It has one independent clause and one dependent clause introduced by although.

ii. We play football every Saturday.

Answer: Simple sentence.

- Explanation: It has one independent clause only.

iii. I will call you when I arrive.

Answer: Complex sentence.

- Explanation: The clause “If you observe him closely” depends on the main clause “You will find out alot. It has one independent clause and one dependent clause

iv. She prepared the report, but she forgot to submit it because she was ill.

Answer: Compound-complex sentence.

- Explanation: It contains two independent clauses joined by but and one dependent clause introduced by because.

v. The bell rang, so the students left the classroom.

Answer: Compound sentence.

- Explanation: It contains two independent clauses joined by yet.

3(b) The candidate is required to rewrite a sentence according to subject–verb agreement

i. Everybody are required to clear his work.

Correct: Everybody is required to clear his or her work.

- Explanation: Everybody is singular, so it takes is.

ii. The team of scientists have discovered new stem cells.

Correct: The team of scientists has discovered new stem cells.

- Explanation: Team is a collective noun treated as singular.

iii. She write a letter.

Correct: She writes a letter.

- Explanation: Third-person singular subjects take verbs ending in -s in the simple present tense.

iv. Neither the teacher nor the students was present.

Correct: Neither the teacher nor the students were present.

- Explanation: With neither...nor, the verb agrees with the subject nearest to it (students).

v. My family are coming to visit the school.

Correct: My family is coming to visit the school.

- Explanation: Family is treated as a singular subject because it is a group acting as a single unit..

1 mark @ 10

4. The candidate should differentiate between denotative and connotative meaning

1. Denotative meaning is the literal dictionary meaning, while connotative meaning is the implied or associated meaning.
2. Denotative meaning is objective, whereas connotative meaning is subjective.
3. Denotative meaning remains constant, while connotative meaning changes with culture and context.
4. Denotative meaning is common in academic writing, whereas connotative meaning is common in literature and persuasive language.
5. Denotative meaning does not express emotions, while connotative meaning expresses feelings and attitudes.

2 mark @ 10

SECTION B 60 (MARKS)

5. The candidate should describe guidelines for Effective Use of Multimedia Platforms in Oral Presentation into two phases: before and during the oral presentation.

Introduction: Any relevant overview of Multimedia Platforms

Any overview about multimedia Platforms (2 marks)

Main body: The candidate should describe guidelines for Effective Use of Multimedia Platforms in Oral Presentation. (2 marks)

Before the Presentation

- Define your objectives: Clearly state the specific objective(s) of your presentation to guide your content selection.
- Outline your content: Determine the structure of your presentation by arranging key aspects in a logical flow and sticking to it during the oral presentation.
- Select a template: Choose the most suitable template that supports your message and allows for easy integration of multimedia tools and visual support.

- Assess the technical environment: Confirm the specifications of your venue (e.g., checking smart classroom compatibility with screens, projectors, microphones, and speakers).
- Develop multimedia content: Add visuals, audio, or audiovisuals to illustrate your points and enhance audience understanding.
- Add accompanying written content: Align text font type and size with your audience's preferences for better visibility. Keep text concise and straightforward, using large fonts and captivating effects like colour, bold face, and italics.
- Review and practise: Thoroughly review your presentation to iron out errors and practise to ensure smooth delivery and transitions between slides or points. (2 @ marks)

During the Presentation

- Supplement, do not replace: Use multimedia to enhance your oral message; do not let the media do the talking on your behalf.
- Keep slides simple: Use high-quality, high-resolution images, graphics, and charts that are easy to understand at a glance.
- Maintain visual cohesion: Stick to a consistent colour palette and avoid excessive animations or distracting effects.
- Use audio wisely: Choose audio content that complements your visuals and narration rather than competing with or repeating them.
- Focus on key information: Present content logically to expand on specific ideas rather than tautologising themes and displaying lengthy text sections.
- Use transitions: Employ clear transitions to guide the audience smoothly from one point or concept to the next.
- Speak clearly and concisely: Use short, simple sentences, speak at a moderate pace, and make eye contact with your audience.
- Be confident and enthusiastic Deliver your presentation with energy to capture and maintain audience attention.

(2 @ marks)

Conclusion: Any related explanation about multimedia Platforms (2 marks)

6. The candidate should show helpful Techniques in the participation of debate.

Introduction: Any relevant explanation about debate. (2 marks)

Main body: The candidate is required to show helpful Techniques in the participation of debate (2 @ marks)

- Recognise your audience: Choose language that is simple and clear, avoiding complex jargon. Use real-life examples to make arguments relatable.
- Focus on a single idea: Maintain respect and persuade others effectively by sticking to a single core idea backed by logical arguments and evidence.
- Project confidence: Use body language, tone of voice, facial expressions, and good eye contact with conviction.

- Structure your speech: Argue around your claim, emphasising main points with conviction without fear of criticism.
- Incorporate research: Use evidence and examples to demonstrate knowledge of the subject.
- Anticipate opposing claims: Prepare counter-statements to defeat opposing arguments.
- Be an active listener: Identify and address your opponents' weaknesses.
- Employ figures of speech: Use analogies, metaphors, or rhetorical questions appropriately to draw attention to key points. (2 @ marks)

Conclusion: any relevant explanation about helpful Techniques in the participation of debate (2 marks)

7. The student is required to discuss major components of a Project Report

Introduction: A candidate should explain what project report is? (2 marks)

Main body: The student is required to discuss major components of a Project Report (2 marks)

- Title Page: Full, clear title, author name, class, school, date, and subject/course.
- Acknowledgements: Polite and formal expression of gratitude to individuals or institutions that helped.
- Executive Summary / Abstract: A short paragraph (100–150 words) summarising the report's purpose, activities, main findings, and recommendations.
- Introduction: Background or reason for the project, objectives, importance, timing, and location.
- Methodology / Project implementation: Step-by-step description of procedures, materials used, and challenges faced with solutions.
- Results / Findings: Achievements, discoveries, and visual data representations (tables, figures, photographs) compared against original objectives.
- Discussion: Interpretation of results, evaluation of successes/improvements, and lessons learned.
- Conclusion: Summary of main achievements and whether objectives were met.
- Recommendations: Practical ways to improve/expand the project and advice for future similar projects.
- References: List of books, websites, and sources using standard referencing styles (e.g., APA, MLA, Harvard, Chicago). (2 @ marks)

Conclusion:
(2 marks)

8. The candidate should discuss six steps for interpreting Visual Illustrations in Academic Writing

Introduction

A candidate is required to explain the meaning of visual illustrations. (2 marks)

Main body

candidate should discuss six steps for interpreting Visual Illustrations in Academic Writing. (3 marks)

Step 1: Identify the type of illustration: Determine whether you are looking at an image, figure, --

- Map, graph (bar/line), or drawing. Different types serve unique purposes:
- Bar graphs compare quantities.
- Line graphs show change over time.
- Venn diagrams highlight similarities and differences.
- Maps present geographical distribution.
- Tables organise detailed numerical data.

Step 2: Read the title, labels, and keys: Pay close attention to axes, headings, captions, and keys to understand the variables and units of measurement.

Step 3: Observe details: Examine all features, including colours (which represent distinct categories like food, rent, education, and savings in a pie chart).

Step 4: Look for patterns or trends: Search for general patterns (increasing, decreasing, repeating, or contrasting) rather than individual points.

Step 5: Summarise the message Condense the main point into one or two sentences using specific introductory phrases (e.g., "The graph indicates that...", "From the diagram, it is observed that...", "This suggests that...").

Step 6: Interpret its significance: Explain why the illustration matters in context, how it supports your argument, and what broader lessons or decisions it informs.

Conclusion: any relevant explanation about interpreting Visual Illustrations in Academic Writing (2 marks)